

9 EASY FIXES TO BRING IN POSITIVE ENERGY USING FENG SHUI THE COUNTRY WAY

The number 9 attracts good energy.
Complete all 9 to up your benefits.

1. Add a natural element like a plant to each room to improve energy and health. Place a live plant near your desk or workspace to boost productivity.
2. Get out the WD-40 and repair all the squeaky hinges, especially if it's your front door. Squeaky hinges resemble the sound of someone crying and can bring down your mood.
3. Clean your windows inside and out. The windows in your home symbolize your eyes. You want your visions to be clear so you can see what the world has to offer you.
4. Use your front door once or twice a week at the least. Many people do not use their front door, coming in through garage, back door or a patio door instead. But chi (positive energy) enters through your homes main door which is usually your front door.
5. Ensure the path or walkway to your front door is easy to find and free of debris. A clear, obvious pathway invites chi into your home.
6. Make use of crystals. Hang a crystal chandelier over your dining table or in your entry way. If that's not your style, a simple crystal quartz will work to reflect positive light into room
7. Place a small water fountain near your entry way with the flow of water directed towards the center of your house to increase the chances of wealth flowing into your home. If it is not possible to put in a fountain, hang a picture or painting with flowing water.
8. As indicated in tip #7, water and wealth are related, so to keep from flushing your wealth away, keep your bathroom doors closed and the toilet seat lids down.
9. Clean up the clutter, especially around the entry way and in social living spaces. Clutter interrupts the flow of chi and can create pockets where negative energy collects.

visit ruralwriter.com or My Front Porch on Medium